GOOD-BYE SWEETHEART

On a ship at night, under stars so bright,
Stood two soldiers side by side;
And one was dear to a maiden fair,
And one a mother's pride;
But the call to go and meet the foe
Came across the rolling main;
And they sailed away at the close of day,
While their hearts sang this refrain:

CHORUS:

Good-bye dear sweetheart
Farewell to you;
Some day I'll see you,
When dreams come true.
Tonight { I'm sailing,
 { you're
 Somewhere far away;
But I'll be dreaming ever
Of you, night and day.

Many have to part, with an aching heart,
From the boys they love so well;
And though all the while they may bravely smile,
Their thoughts no one can tell;
And when their hearts yearn for their boys' return
From the place that's far away;
Then they'll sing again the old refrain,
That they sang on parting day.

CHORUS:

Good-bye dear sweetheart
Farewell to you;
Someday I'll see you,
When dreams come true.
Tonight { I'm sailing,
 { you're
 Somewhere far away;
But I'll be dreaming ever
Of you, night and day.
